

2010 Clifton Day Sponsorships

The Clifton Day celebration is a time-honored family tradition dating back over 40 years. Each year, thousands of area residents circle the Sunday of October's Columbus Day weekend on their calendars in anticipation of another fun-filled family outing. Family and relatives are packed into the SUV and kids are jumping up and down to board the VRE train. All are destined for Fairfax County's best-kept secret . . . the historic Town of Clifton, VA.

One day a year the residents of Clifton close down the streets and put on their volunteer hats to welcome the general public to their sleepy little town. The streets are lined with vendors and specific areas are cordoned off for special activities such as horseback rides, Civil War reenactments, Craft Fairs, and the demonstrations. It is essentially an old time country fair complete with live music, historic displays, and barbecues.

Local charities are the largest benefactors of the day, as food and parking proceeds go exclusively into the coffers of groups such as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Lions, Acacia Lodge, local churches, and the Clifton Betterment Association (CBA – your official host).

By 10:00 a.m. the streets are literally packed with people drawn by a select group of vendors including antique dealers, unique craftsmen, children's entertainment vendors, rare collectibles dealers, and more. The average Clifton Day celebration will draw up to 25,000 people over the course of the day.

The CBA is offering a series of sponsorship opportunities for the business community and generous families. We hope that you will recognize the potential marketing exposure presented in an environment such as the Clifton Day Celebration. Attached you will find a menu of sponsorship programs with varying levels of benefits associated with separate levels of donations. We would be honored if you would review the list and select a program that best fits your means and objectives. With your assistance, we can further enhance the recognition of this unique tradition, and support a host of deserving local charities along the way. For sponsorship information, please check www.cliftonday.com or call us at (703) 968-0740. If you do nothing else, please circle Sunday, October 10th on your own calendar and come join in the fun.
